

We had a fantastic week in Haiti July 4-10, 2010. The team saw 1015 patients in 5 days and did 30 surgeries. Everyone seemed to think it was their best mission ever. Marty Arkin was our ophthalmologist, Kevin Kirlin and Anshu Chandra our optometrists, and Gregory Hughes, our optician. I was worried that I only had 2 optometrists where I had had 5 the first trip 2 years ago when we saw over 500 patients. I should not have worried. With an optician on the team, the optometrists were able to focus on exams and saw 1015 patients in 5 days. Everyone was blown away that we saw that many. Our surgeon also said it was his most productive mission ever.